A Note From The Director

As we start the New Year, we know that 2024 will be a memorable one in the history of our Library! We look forward to getting back to our building and providing you with world-class programs and resources in a modern facility. We are very excited!

The past two months have been packed with events and special projects here at the Library!

Our Outreach van has been all over town, participating in everything from SEPTA's Trunk-or-Treat to providing services at senior centers—and so much more.

Construction continues on our new building. In the meantime, we are completely overhauling our "back-office" technology and procedures. You will see a big change in how we display books: the Library will appear much more like a bookstore, with books in genres and categories, and not in the outdated Dewey system order. We have modernized and streamlined our financial system, including our onboarding of new employees, our "time clocks" and more. In addition to in-person service at our welcome desk, soon you will be able to self-check books and other materials, in and out.

We are now a "Family Place" library as Michelle Samuel and I attended an intensive training course. The goal of the "Family Place" program is to transform libraries into community centers for literacy, early childhood development, parent education and engagement, family support and community information. The additional staff training will enhance much of what we already do here at Oceanside. We were able to attend this program thanks to a grant from Assemblyman Ari Brown!

Several of our staff attended the New York Library Association conference. Three of our team presented a seminar (to a packed house) on the programs we run outside the Library building. I was honored to be awarded a Honorary Lifetime Membership for services rendered to the Nassau County Library Association. Our Assistant Director presented a seminar to the Four Counties Library System on our Connections programs. I am very proud to say we are at the forefront of our profession, which results in cutting-edge programming, resources, and services for our community.

OceanCon was a great success; mark your calendars for Dr. Seuss and Friends, coming March 3, 2024!

As always—thank you for your support. Your Library is here for you!
